Nicole LaFranchise, checked back with me regarding the updated LWG process/schedule for updating the FS source control tables. They ran my request to provide a complete draft table to DEQ for review by the LWG. Assuming the LWG approves this option, we should expect approval of the process by the end of July (not really sure why this is so difficult) and receive draft tables for review in early August. The LWG will be looking for review comments within a month after they provide the draft tables.
